

Ain't got time for a broken heart

Words & Music by Dave James Hendrikse

Waking skies at sunrise, a brand new day a different door
Where every dream will shadow, the ones I had before
The screamin' in my head
Killed the singin' in my soul
I hope that you, you feel it too

Now, you got me runnin' other places in my mind
But, you're the one who has a problem, not the other way around. Cause

I ain't got time
Ain't got time for a broken heart, but damned if I would
I don't know if I should.
Cause I'm
Tired of tears they keep on fallin' softly on the ground
Enough to get my feet wet
But not enough to let me drown

Somewhere down the station, they say, there's a freedom train for you
It'll help you to rewind.
We can move the whole world if we choose

Just because you're losing Doesn't mean you're really lost
I'm afraid those words won't help me
I cannot bear the cross

I ain't got time.....

Dave James ©September 2016

Milk