

Waiting for another Day

Words & Music by Dave James Hendrikse

One night won't make it happen
It'll need some time
I don't play no games, but Baby
I'm gonna make you mine
If you want to, let's start chillin'
Worn out, that's how i'm feeling now

And if you're screaming down the mountainside
I need to be alone
I need to be alone, now
And if you're worried about your folks tonight
I would like to drive you home
Would like to drive you home, now

I don't like you to be worried
I'm sure for us, there is a better way
If by tomorrow you still feel the same, then
I'am just waiting' for another day
The world has somehow shifted
Now i see the light
Your the strength I need to push me,
So watch me as I glide
When you're hit, your head is spinnin'
You and me, that's how i'm feeling now
